Alex is a graduate of Detroit Mercy Law School and completed a Master of Arts in Dispute Resolution (MADR) degree from Wayne State University in 2020. He is also a trained and court-approved general civil mediator. Given that Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR), while not a new concept, is gaining in popularity and widespread implementation, Alex has sought to collaborate with stakeholders and decision-makers to be part of the process in determining best practices within this field. He applied and was accepted as an American Bar Association (ABA) Section of Dispute Resolution Fellow for Bar Years 2021-2022 and 2022-2023. He serves on the ADR Section's Diversity Committee and has been working on projects designed to increase the selection of diverse neutrals as ADR practitioners. He also sits as a member on the State Bar of Michigan's ADR Section's ADR Council for 2021-2022 and 2022-2023. Alex also is a contributor to a dispute resolution podcast sponsored by the ABA's ADR Section. While managing this and other responsibilities, Alex also works for his family real estate business based in Oakland County, Michigan.
