

JANICE HOLDINSKI

Bio

Jan Holdinski is a Regional Vice President for the American Arbitration Association (AAA) and is primarily responsible for business development activities in the labor and employment areas. In addition, she is directly involved with the recruitment of arbitrators and mediators as determined by caseload needs and user preferences; the development of educational and training programs, which include advocacy training and webinars; administers and conducts elections, manages large, complex cases, as well as the oversight for the Michigan Regional office. Throughout her career, she has lectured at law firms, Bar Associations, trade groups and Universities on various subjects in the arbitration and mediation process. She is a member of the Labor Employment Relations Association and a member of the ADR Section of the Michigan State Bar. Ms. Holdinski is the first-ever recipient of the President's Award for Living the Values of the AAA in 2000, which include Integrity, Conflict Management and Service.